

Alex's Diary

Hello everyone

One day when Mummy, Grandma and I were in the car, I said to Grandma, "Grandma, can I call you Nana?"

"Well, yes I suppose so." said Grandma, "but why?"

"I don't know" I replied, "I just want to start calling you Nana."

"Where's all this come from?" asked Grandma.

"From inside my head" I said.

"Oh!" said Grandma, "and what are you going to call Granddad?"

"That's not in my head yet." I replied, "I'll think about it."

Mummy, who had been very quiet during this conversation, suddenly said, "I think you should call Grandma 'Grandma'. Nana is for young Grandmas not old ones."

Grandma didn't look amused!

"Alright" I said, "Grandma it is.....and don't worry Grandma, you're not really old.....just medium old."

Grandma smiled.

Bye for now,

Alex
